

The honor you have received is truly a great one, for it is bestowed upon you by your peers — the members of your unit.

You may not realize it now, but you will look back on today as a day of beginnings.

My friend, I congratulate you on your election to the Order of the Arrow.

Will you be able to live up to their expectations? They have challenged you to do so.

They have faith in you.

Those who chose you are watching.

But, such an honor is not without its price.

However, this destination is many months — maybe even years — away.

Along its path lies true Brotherhood.

By accepting their challenge, you embark upon a journey that many before you have taken.

I am here to help you prove to yourself your worthiness for the honor your unit has bestowed upon you.

I am here to help you find your way as you travel — as an arrow driven skyward — along this lofty journey...

Who am I?

For the moment, that is less important than what I represent.

It is enough to say that I am a friend you have probably known for a long time.

Right now, what is important is that you commit yourself to taking the first step.

This will test not only your physical strength, but your inner strength.

But, by taking full advantage of this opportunity, you will find yourself better able to serve Scouting and your unit... the ones who chose you.
